TERMS OF ADMISSION.

Candidates for admission to the Freshman Class must sustain an examination on Cæsar, Virgil, the Greek Reader, Adam's Latin Grammar, Sophocles' Greek Grammar, English Grammar, Ancient and Modern Geography, Arithmetic and Loomis' Elementary Algebra.

A candidate for an advanced standing, in addition to the above studies, is examined in the various branches to which the class he proposes to enter, has attended.

Satisfactory testimonials of good moral character are required, and those coming from other Institutions must bring certificates of regular and honorable dismissal.

An accurate and thorough acquaintance with the studies required for admission is indispensable, in order to receive the full advantage of the College course.

It is found from experience, that students, imperfectly prepared for the class they enter, are embarrassed in their future progress, and are seldom able to repair the want of solid preparatory study.

COURSE OF INSTRUCTION.

The whole course of instruction occupies four years. The classes attend three recitations or lectures a day, except on Wednesday and Saturday, when they usually have but two.

The studies of the several classes are as follows:

FRESHMAN CLASS.

Cicero's Orations, Livy, Odes of Horace, Latin Prose Composition (Arnold's), Classical Antiquities, Xenophon's Anabasis, Cyropædia, Life of Agesilaus, Greek Grammar (Sophocles'), Greek Prose Composition (Arnold's), Ancient Geography (Schmidt's), German Grammar (Eichhorn's), and Heydenreich's Reader, Algebra (Loomis'), Geometry

(Loomis'), Universal History (Weber's), Rhetoric (Coppee's), English Literature (Cleveland's), Composition and Declamation throughout the year.

SOPHOMORE CLASS.

JUNIOR CLASS.

The Satires, Epistles and Ars Poetica of Horace, Cicero de Oratore or Cicero de Natura Deorum, Latin Prose Composition, The Iliad or Odyssey of Homer, Prometheus of Æschylus, or the Alcestis of Euripides, German, Heyse's Grammar, Selections from Schiller, and Translations from English Authors, Lectures on Chemistry with Experiments, Youman's Chemistry, Agassiz's Zoölogy, Mineralogy (Dana's), Botany (Gray's), Lectures on Meteorology, Elements of Criticism (Kames'), History of Civilization (Guizot's), Rhetoric (Blair's) continued, Mental Philosophy (Haven's), Logic (Coppee's), Physiology (Hooker's), (Draper's) Composition and Declamation, Forensic Disputations.

SENIOR CLASS.

Tacitus' Histories, or the Agricola and Germania, Juvenal's Satires, Plautus or Terence, Latin Composition, Phædo of Plato, Demosthenes, or Æschines on the Crown, The Antigone or Electra of Sophocles, Greek Composition, German Composition, Maria Stuart or Wilhelm Tell, German Translations, and Conversational Exercises, Astronomy (Loomis'), Geology (Dana's), Keith on the Globes, Political Economy (Wayland's with Lectures), Constitution of the United States (Sheppard's), Butler's Analogy, Moral Philosophy (Wayland's), Natural Philosophy (Paley's), Evidences of Christianity (Paley's), Forensic Disputations, Revision of the Course.

INSTRUCTION AND SUPERVISION.

The instruction in the College is given entirely by the Professors, who have been engaged for some years in their respective departments. Lectures are also occasionally delivered by the Professors.

The discipline of the Institution is, as nearly as possible, parental. The President, under whose immediate supervision the building is placed, with the other officers, exercises a constant guardianship over the whole establishment, so that parents at a distance have all the security they may desire for the proper government of their children.

Department of Physical Science.

During the past scholastic year the efficiency of this department of the College has been greatly increased by the addition of a complete collection of Philosophical Apparatus. These instruments have been specially constructed to bring before the students all the fundamentally important phenomena of Natural Philosophy and Chemistry, and thus cause Nature, as far as possible, to take the place of instructor, and give her own teachings in her own language. All the recent developments in reference to the correlation of the physical forces are thus experimentally illustrated and indelibly impressed upon the mind of the student.

A superior Telescope has recently come into possession of the College, and will soon be mounted and ready for the use of the students in Astronomy. This Telescope was made by Merz & Son, Opticians, of Munich, in Germany. It is an achromatic refractor of over nine feet focal lenghth, with an object glass of six-and-a-half inches aperture. It is furnished with five magnifying powers, varying from eighty-five to four hundred and sixty times; with a complete set of sun glasses, a prismatic reflector, an annular micrometer, and a terrestrial eye-piece. The instrument has two divided circles, for reading off angles, of nine-and-a-half inches in diameter, finely graduated on silver to minutes of arc, and furnished with two verniers and microscopes which read to four seconds each. The whole instrument, although very heavy, is so beautifully balanced on its centre of gravity that the slightest touch will move it readily; and when it is adjusted to a celestial object, a clock, attached to the Telescope, moves the tube of the instrument so that it follows the apparent motion of the heavenly body, and thus the object observed is always kept in the field of view without requiring any further handling on the part of the observer.

This Telescope has already done good work in astronomical science, and has been pronounced, by the first astronomers in the country, to be a perfect instrument.

At the last meeting of the Board of Trusstees the celebrated collection of minerals owned by Mr. Seymour, of New York, was purchased for the College. This large cabinet, the result of thirty years collection, is peculiarly rich in crystallographic forms and will give a peculiar facility in teaching this important practical branch of science.

The instruction in this department of the College is given through the study of the best text books, combined with attendance on lectures, illustrated with all that is recent and important in Physical Science.

The German Language.

A Professorship having been established in the College by the Synod of Pennsylvania, designed to furnish the student with facilities for acquiring a knowledge of the German language and its literature, instruction is now given to the classes in this department as a part of the regular College course. In addition to the use of the text-books mentioned in the foregoing course of instruction, written exercises are prepared by the student during the whole course, and at all the recitations of the classes, opportunities are afforded for acquiring a familiarity with the German as a spoken language.

Literary Societies.

There are two Literary Societies connected with the College, the Philomathæan and the Phrenakosmian, which exert a favorable influence on the improvement of the members. Their Halls occupy the two wings on the fourth story of the College edifice, and are furnished in a beautiful and tasteful manner. They hold their meetings every Wednesday afternoon.

Linnæan Society.

The object of this Association is to promote among its members a love of Nature, by cultivating the study of the various branches of Natural Science, and by making collections of specimens in these departments. A Hall has been erected for the reception of the interesting and valuable collection of minerals, shells, fossils, birds, quadrupeds, reptiles, insects, coins, paintings, engravings, medals, etc., secured by the industry of the members and the liberality of friends.

Libraries.

The College Library, to which all the students have free access, contains many valuable works. The Libraries of the Literary Societies also comprise a large number of well selected and standard volumes, which have regularly increased by annual appropriations for that purpose. These Libraries are accessible to the members of the Societies, upon compliance with such laws as the Societies respectively enact.

The College Library contains		5,800	vols.
The Phrenakosmian	"	5,100	"
The Philomathæan	"	4,456	"
The Linnæan	"	100	"

Examinations.

There is a public examination during each College term. A faithful record of the delinquencies of every student, of the degree of his attainment in scholarship, and of his conduct and attendance, is kept; a copy of which record is transmitted to parents or guardians, at the close of each term.

If a student be absent for some time from the Institution, he must sustain an examination upon the studies, to which his class has been attending during his absence.

Scholarships.

A permanent Scholarship in the Institution may be obtained by the payment of five hundred dollars, which perpetually secures to the holder of the certificate the right of gratuitous instruction for one student. The certificate may be transferred or sold as any other certificate of stock. Several of these Scholarships have been taken by congregations as well as by individuals. W. G. Thompson, Esq., of Lancaster, and Hon. Edward McPherson, of Gettysburg, have each established a Scholarship for the purpose of giving the benefit of a Collegiate education to the most indigent and successful pupil who shall pass through the prescribed course in the High School of Gettysburg.

Premiums.

A friend of the College has given the sum of five hundred dollars to the Institution, for the purpose of securing high scholarship in the Freshman class. The interest of the fund is given, at the close of the year, to the individual who shall be found, upon examination, the best in all the regular studies attended to by his class.

Mr. Charles W. Hassler has furnished a fund, the interest of which is to be expended annually for the purchase of a Gold Medal, to be presented to that student of the Junior Class who shall have shown the greatest proficiency in the Latin Language at the examination of the Class preceding the Annual Commencement.

Religious Exercises

Devotional exercises are daily held in the College Chapel, one of the Faculty officiating. The students are also required to attend public worship on the Sabbath, in the College Church, unless they bring a written request from their parents or guardians, specifying the particular congregation, with which they wish to worship. They are likewise required to attend a Biblical recitation on Sabbath afternoon, conducted by one of the officers of the Institution.

Expenses.

The necessary expenses of the College each term, exclusive of books, clothing, furniture and travelling expenses, are as follows:

Board, 13 weeks, at $3 50 per week,	$45 50
Tuition,	12 00
Room rent, etc.,	3 00
Washing,	4 00
Fuel and light,	3 00
	$67 50
Total for the Collegiate year,	$202 50

Boarding in clubs may be procured at $1 80 per week.

The tuition must in all cases bo paid in advance.

The expenses will vary according to circumstances and the character and habits of the student. In incidental expenses, if the parent or guardian furnish the means, or authorize the contracting of debts, an individual may be very extravagant.

Persons, desirous of doing so, can intrust the management of funds for their sons to any member of the Faculty, by whom they will be applied to the purposes intended.

PREPARATORY DEPARTMENT.

The Preparatory Department has been reorganized by the appointment of a Principal, who devotes his exclusive attention to this Department. The course of study has been revised, and embraces all the branches of a thorough English education, together with the elements of the Mathematics, of the Latin and Greek Languages, and of the Sciences. New series of Text-Books, in most branches, have been introduced. The aim is to make the instruction thorough and practical, and adapted to the wants of those receiving it. Students, who wish to take a full collegiate course, will receive a thorough classical training; those who are preparing for business, in addition to other instruction, will have the privilege of instruction in Practical Accounts, Business Forms, Book-Keeping, &c.; those who propose to enter upon mechanical pursuits, will have the opportunity of acquiring the elements of Mathematics, Natural Philosophy, &c.; whilst those who are preparing themselves for the profession of teaching, will have every facility for perfecting themselves in those branches, deemed important in their calling.

There are four grades in the Department, and students on entering the Institution will be admitted to that grade, for which they are qualified by previous study. The following includes the list of studies for each grade, with the text-books annexed:

FOURTH, OR LOWEST, GRADE.

The National Speller, (Parker and Watson). The Juvenile Definer, (Smith). The National Third Reader, (Parker and Watson). The New Primary Geography, (Mitchell). The Progressive Intellectual, and The Rudiments of Written Arithmetic, (Robinson). First Book in Grammar, (Quackenbos). Penmanship, (Potter and Hammond). Drawing, Vocal Music, and Exercises in Composition and Declamation.

THIRD GRADE.

The National Pronounciug Speller with Dictation Exercises, (Parker and Watson). The Grammar School Speller and Definer, (Smith). The Writing Speller, (Sherwood). The National Fourth Reader, (Parker and Watson). The New Intermediate Geography, (Mitchell) with Outline Maps, (Pelton). The Progressive Intellectual, and Practical Arithmetic, (Robinson). English Grammar, (Quackenbos). Primary History of the United States, (Quackenbos). First Lessons in Composition, (Quackenbos). Penmanship, Drawing, Vocal Music, and Exercises in Composition and Declamation.

SECOND GRADE.

Spelling and defining, (Scholar's Companion and Webster's Dictionary). Elocution and Literature, (Parker and Watson's Fifth National Reader). Dictation Exercises. New School Geography and Atlas, (Mitchell). The Progressive Intellectual, and Higher Arithmetics, (Robinson). New Elemcntary Algebra, (Robinson). English Grammar, (Quackenbos). History of the United States, (Quackenbos). Biblical Antiquities, (Nevin). Penmanship, Vocal Music, Exercises in Composition and Declamation. Latin Grammar, (Harkness). Latin Reader, (Harkness). First Greek Book, (Harkness).

FIRST GRADE—PRIMARIAN CLASS.

Ancient Geography, (Mitchell). Comprehensive English Grammar, (Kerl). Progressive Higher Arithmetic and Arithmetical Examples, (Robinson). New Elementary Algebra, (Robinson). Composition and Rhetoric, (Quackenbos). History of England, (Goodrich). Biblical Antiquities, (Nevin). Watts on the Mind, Vocal Music, Exercises in Composition and Declamation. Harkness' Latin Grammar; Cæsar, Virgil and Sallust. Sophocles' Greek Grammar, and Owen's Greek Reader.

Students, sufficiently advanced in this Department, are permitted to attend recitations with the College classes, in any of the branches they may desire, for which no additional charge is made.

It is contemplated, at an early day, to erect a new building for the exclusive use of the Preparatory Department. Until this building is erected, the older students of this Department are provided with rooms in the College Building. The Principal, who resides near the College, will receive into his family a limited number of the younger pupils, for whom temporary provision has been made by the Board of Trustees, in the erection of an addition to his residence.

The Tuition is the same as in the College. Students residing with the Principal will be charged at the rate of sixty-five dollars per Session for boarding, washing, light, fuel, furniture, rooms and attention; the one-half to be paid in advance, the balance at the middle of the session. A deduction of five dollars will be made for the Summer Session. Each student is expected to bring with him towels, sheets, pillow-cases and a quilt, or its equivalent. The Terms and Vacations are the same as in the College Department

TERMS AND VACATIONS.

The Annual Commencement is held on the second Thursday of August. The first term begins six weeks from the day of Commencement, and continues thirteen weeks; the second begins three weeks from the close of the first term, and continues thirteen weeks; the third begins four weeks from the close of the second, and continues thirteen weeks, until the day of the Annual Commencement. The Collegiate year is thus divided into three terms, each of thirteen weeks' continuance. The intervening periods of six, three and four weeks, are devoted to the vacations.

It is highly important that students be punctual in entering upon their duties at the commencement of each term, since an absence of a few days, at a time when a branch of study is commenced, seldom fails to embarrass them during the whole course, and in some cases it is impossible to make up the loss.

PUBLIC EXERCISES.

The Baccalaureate Discourse is delivered, the Sunday proceding the day of the Annual Commencement, by the President of the Institution. The annual exercises of the Junior Class occur on Wednesday morning; on the afternoon of the same day there is an Address before the Literary Societies of the College. This year the Rev. T. L. Cuyler, D. D., of Brooklyn, N. Y., has been selected to deliver the regular Annual Address before the Philomathæan Society. The annual meeting of the Alumni is held on Wednesday evening, and an Address delivered by one of its members; the duty this year devolves upon Rev. Victor L. Conrad, of New York.
